Senior Prophecy

"THIS IS YOUR NORWALK OF THE FUTURE"

Passing through Norwalk last week, I was a little surprised at all the startling changes in that great city. Main Street never looked like that in the good old days of '49 and '50.

The Lichtcsien Brothers, Inc. have a brisk drug and soda pop business set up on the old Rexall Corner. I guess Kaiser and Wells couldn't stand the tough competition. In their employ, I saw Katie Miller jerking sodas and Janet Kettel waiting the floor. Behind the scenes were Peg Clark and Pearl Knittel trying to balance the books while Gloria Fisher was pounding her fingers to the bone on an old re-built typewriter. Arlene Thudium was just leaving all in a huff. I could hear her muttering something about going down to Peckham & Blackburn, Attorneys at Law. I guess that Nancy Battle, Marilyn Hackett, and Nancy Reddick are already there.

I couldn't help but notice all the building and remodeling that is going on. Ted Munson and Dick Kelly are battling about who would get to design the new high school. It's very probable that Jim McDonald and his aides, Carroll Poling and Jim Schaffer will get the actual construction work. The old building, caving in under the heavy load of rules and regulations, really got a jolt when Pat Toomer, Don Welting, and Gretchen Burkle were added to the fast graying faculty. Oh, yes, I mustn't forget Neil McCallister who is now down in the shop. Chuck Prindle is coaching over in Bellevue, pulling his hair out trying to keep two steps ahead of Coach Walls. Also in the teaching realm, I see Lois O'Dell, Bev Mitchell, Shirley Fordham, and Nancy Cissne. We used to worry about what we had to look forward to, but think of our poor children.

I couldn't go on if it weren't for the large, solid potatoes which I've been buying from that scientific farmer, Dave Hestor. His neighbor is also doing very well for himself. I'm speaking of none other than Dean Lawrence. Alternating between the two is Doyal Cutnaw. I hear that he is quite a handy man to have around.

Hark! Did you hear that shot? That was Gaylord Sholes out Coon Hunting again. Speaking of coons, I wonder if Carol is traveling around the world on her thumb or raising a little football team.

Bill McKinley is playing pro-football while Mrs. McKinley sits on the sidelines. Things are a little different at home though. Also in the sport light, is mighty "Itsey" Dye, world light weight champion.

Guess who I saw pushing a baby carriage the other day? In fact, Peg Austin had two of them. Not to be outdone, was Pat Werner with triplets. It's rumored that Regina White is being courted by some big oil tycoon from out West. I hope she gets her man. Beverly Ritchey is still waiting for a curly haired red headed soldier to get back from Japan. My, what patience and fortitude!

For all out entertainment, drop around to Eddies Cafe and hear some hot jazz. Pete Strecker is directing his own compositions and under his capable command are Al Capara and his crying trumpet, Denny Vaughn and his magic drums, and Connie Ford with that same old cello, letting out a few solos here and there. When Judy Harkness can take time off from her art work, she pinch hits at the piano.

Louise Plant is employed at Enders Green House, taking orders and the such. It seems that Tom Hall comes in every week and buys an orchid for his one and only. Pat Latham is continually dropping hints to her hubby to buy her some flowers but all she gets are throw rugs.

I don't think anyone forgot those lucious crisp Becker Potato Chips. Dick has everything under control including his secretary, Rita Clark. Those slick chicks at the ditto machine are Roberta Sheppard and Floyce Trautman.

Dave Lang has taken over his father's grocery business and has done much to modernize it. Listening to endless female complaints and picking out the softest oranges are Marge Thorn, Arlene Ott, and Myrtle Worcestor. Audrey Ernest is answering the telephone and working behind the cash register.

Oh, dear, I have to go out to the hospital and have an operation but I'm scared to death. Dr. Johnson is yielding the scapel while his old faithful, Ann Raymond, stands by with a basketfull of towels to mop up the blood. Pat Brown, Viola Weitzel, and Barb Boles are also bustling about the halls in their spotless white uniforms. In the foyer, ready to greet you with a smile is Luanne Tinder. Helping her with the desk work is Marilyn Copsey. You still have to look twice to see both of them. By the way, if you have corns, bunions, or fallen arches, you better let Dr. Robert Burr apply his healing touch. You'll find him on the second floor of the bank building, directly across from Bill Balduff, the ideal traveling salesman. Up on the roof are Norb Hagg and Bob Simons, trying to prefect some sort of concoction out of sour milk and stale perfume.

If you must have a new car, go to Jack Hawley. His cars are longer on the inside than on the out and absolutely guaranteed to wear out. Of course, you can always depend on Jack Cool, Rich Meagrow, or Glenn Jacobs to throw the pieces back together again.

Girls, attention! If you value your wigs, stay away from the Greer, Martin, & Sommers Experiment Saloon because they just got out of beauty school. They'll burn, frizzle, and scalp you for nothing. Is it worth it?

Before I leave you, I mustn't forget madcap Sheridan St. Carroll, alias JoAnne Reddy, who is now running the Norwalk Daily Blatter. Struggling along under her constant nagging and miserly paychecks is commercial illustrator Joanne Britton, and society columnist Pat Biller. Frank Hicks is the editor while Dick Ringle is head type setter. I don't know which sets the most, he or the type.

If I've missed anyone in the passing parade, you may call Z-222 at the Toledo Assylum for the insane, and ask for me in my little padded cell.
